

SUKO Nordic is a family-owned Danish company that develops natural and organic health products.

Our products are based on research and documented health effects. Our R & D includes collaboration with universities and partner companies.

Our core product is AP-4® Rosehip Powder, now also available under our own SUKOFLEX® brand. The product is recommended for joint health without side effects.

AP-4® is a selected variety of the dog rose Rosa canina, cultivated in organic plantations in the south of Chile.

MaquiPro® is a novel synbiotic (pre- and probiotic) supplement for cardiovascular health. MaquiPro® is in clinical testing at the University of Copenhagen.

We care about the quality of the ingredients and raw materials we use. All fruits and berries are sourced from partner companies in the south of Chile. Here, the climate is optimal for the organic cultivation of fruits like maqui and rosehip.

SUKO Nordic products have 100% traceability from plantation to our consumers.
